Monte,

The complete databases are being sent today via FedEx. You should have them tomorrow.

The primary subversion repository file "SVN.rar" is not password protected. We are still working with our client to obtain the password for the "svn_bkp_full.tar" file. We will let you know if we are able to obtain the password.

Could you kindly apprise us of the status of Power's attempts to address the issues I identified in my November 19 email below regarding the corrupted MSSQL databases and Subversion repository we received last week? In particular, could you provide us with a date when you expect to produce the un-corrupted databases and the password for the Subversion repository?

We expect to raise the importance of the long-promised production of these databases and the Subversion repository with Magistrate Judge Spero during our pre-hearing call tomorrow, and intend to let him know the date(s) when production is anticipated, what problems (if any) Power is experiencing in obtaining the materials, and whether the delays with production are likely to engender additional motion practice that will need to be addressed during the November 4 hearing.

Thanks,

Monte

Dear Monte:

We are in the process of obtaining the untruncated database files. They total size of the files is nearly 110 GB. Over the weekend, we will put the files on a portable hard drive and send that to you early next week.

We are still working on obtaining the password for the subversion repository.

Thank you Tim.

However, would you kindly clarify what you mean when you state you anticipate having “most” of the issues worked out soon? Does that mean there are some problems with the corrupted data that you already have determined will take longer to address? If so, can you tell us now which problems you are referring to, and what is the reason they may need more time to remedy?

Thanks,

Monte

Morvarid:

We are working on the problems mentioned in Monte's e-mail below and anticipate having most of the issues worked out soon.

The stipulation is fine and you have my permission to file it.

Tim,

Notwithstanding the problems with the October 14th production of source code (as outlined in the below email), we would like to go ahead and file the stipulation to extend the MSJ Opposition and Expert report deadlines. However, we will do so subject to your good faith promise to provide us with the uncorrupt, accessible versions of the recently produced code. If you do not plan on remedying the issues with the recent production, please let us know immediately.

I have also attached a draft of the stipulation we would like to file. Please let me know if you have any edits as soon as possible.

Thank you.

Subject: Problems with some of the Power Database files

Tim, et al.:

We have had a chance to do a very quick analysis of the DVDs containing Power's database information that you sent to us over the weekend. Certain of the files in them are corrupted, Here is a list of files we already have determined are corrupted, and which we ask that you immediately produce in uncorrupted form:

Subversion Repository DVD : both files SVN.rar and svn_bkp_full.tar both of size 2,097,1xx KB

SQL 3 set 1: power_bkp_full.bak, power_flag_bkp_full.bak both of size 2,097,1xx KB

SQL 3 set 2: power_massmail_manager_bkp_full.bak, powerscrap_bkp_full.bak both of size 2,097,1xx KB

SQL 6: Async_bkp_full.bak size 2,097,149 KB

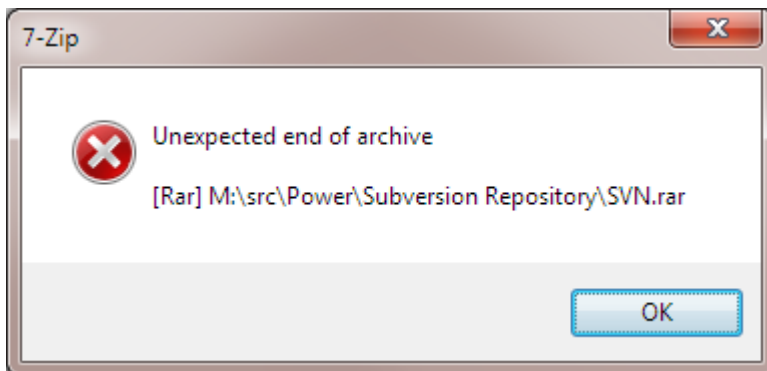

SQL 7: PowerAccount_bkp_full.bak size 2,097,151 KB

Our best guess what the problem is is that the files were truncated at this size, and therefore they are all corrupted. In an effort to remedy this problem without further delay, we ask that you run the following T-SQL command on the .bak files after you write them to the DVD.

RESTORE VERIFYONLY FROM DISK = 'C:\path\file.bak'

This command will verify that the DVDs are OK before you send the new ones and thereby avoid this problem. If it will expedite matters, I am happy to have our expert Larry Melling walk you through the process. To further assist you, we have attached a zip file of the 4 .rpt files that show the results of this command for each of the database.bak files delivered and grouped by DVD.

With respect to the Subversion DVD, here is the error we receive when we try to open the SVN.rar file:

And another problem occurs when we try to extract the tar file, as reflected in the screen shot shown below

/cygdrive/m/src/Power/Subversion Repository

larry@larry-PC ~
$ cd /cygdrive/m/src//Power/Subversion\ Repository/
larry@larry-PC /cygdrive/m/src/Power/Subversion Repository
$ ls
SUN.rar  svn_bkp_full.tar
larry@larry-PC /cygdrive/m/src/Power/Subversion Repository $ tar xvf svn_bkp_full.tar home/svn/
home/svn/permissions/home/svn/permissions/svn-access.conf.bkp tar: Skipping to next header tar: A lone zero block at 38
tar: Exiting with failure status due to previous errors
larry@larry-PC /cygdrive/m/src/Power/Subversion Repository

Finally, please include the admin username and password associated with the Subversion repository files, so that we may actually review the code associated with those files. Again, I am happy to have you speak directly with Larry Melling if there is any confusion about any of these issues, and how they can be quickly remedied,

Thank you,

Monte
